

Congratulations, Darling!

I was left here on purpose so I could find a new love. I HAVE FOUND YOU!

Who has read me and who placed me here?
What of all those past loves?
Where will I go when we sadly part ways?

Use the internet to access BookCrossing.com -- a free, anonymous, book sharing community. It pained my previous love to release me here, but it was time for us to part. That past love (as well all those who came before) are curious about my fate. Please enter the BCID below and ease their minds by letting them know I am no longer alone.

My newly found love, there will come a day when I must continue my journey.
I know you are strong enough to release me when our time is through.
